from john bradshaw one of the world s leading experts on animal behaviour and the author of the sunday times bestseller in defence of dogs cat sense is a scientific portrait of the true surprising nature of cats worshipped as gods feared as demonic servants seen as both wild opportunists and beloved companions cats often seem as unfathomable enigmatic and magical to us today as they did in ancient times they have lived with humans for at least ten thousand years far earlier than the reign of the pharaohs and today are the most popular pet in the world that they now outnumber the dog man s best friend by three to one is small wonder at once affectionate and self reliant they seem to be perfectly suited to our busy 21st century lifestyles yet cats still think like the wild scavengers and hunters from which they are descended and to which they can quickly revert today they face unprecedented challenges in their life with humans from conservationists who cast them as a threat to wildlife from other cats who they compete for territory with and from good intentioned owners and vets with misconceptions of what they require cats need not so much our sympathy but our understanding if they are to continue to enjoy our companionship the recent surge in feline science with john bradshaw at the forefront means we are now better equipped to understand them than ever before cat sense offers us for the first time a true picture of one of humanity s closest and most enigmatic companions praise for in defence of dogs the most fantastic book a revelation observer essential reading daily telegraph nothing less than a manifesto for a new understanding guardian a case grounded in kindness and science authoritative wise and rather moving independent a wonderful reassuring and encouraging book literary review a wonderfully informative passionate book economist john bradshaw is a biologist who founded and directs the world renowned anthrozoology institute based at the university of bristol he has been studying the behaviour of domestic cats and their owners for over 25 years and is the author of many scientific articles research papers and reviews he is also the author of the sunday times bestseller in defence of dogs based on cutting edge science this bestselling book on the inner lives of cats is for any who may wonder what their feline companions are really thinking the new york times in cat sense renowned anthrozoologist john bradshaw takes us further into the mind of the domestic cat than ever before using cutting edge scientific research to dispel lingering myths and explain the true nature of our feline friends tracing the cat s evolution from lone predator to domesticated companion bradshaw shows that although cats and humans have lived together for eight thousand years cats remain independent predatory and wary of contact with their own kind qualities that often clash with our modern lifestyles to live in harmony with our cats bradshaw explains we first need to understand their inherited quirks including understanding their body language and managing both their natural hunting instincts and their relationships with other cats a must read for any cat lover cat sense offers humane penetrating insights about the domestic cat that challenge our most basic assumptions and promise to dramatically improve our pets lives and ours amazing guardian from the on screen experts for bbc2 s cat watch and based on their groundbreaking research this is the ultimate guide to making your cat a happier more sociable animal the idea of a trained cat is a contradiction in terms isn t it naturally solitary wary easily threatened by newcomers they are attached to place rather than people and much of their antisocial behaviour arises in situations where that attachment is threatened but as cat experts sarah ellis and john bradshaw argue such stress induced behaviour can be prevented reduced even eliminated by training a comprehensive and engaging step by step guide the trainable cat will help you to help your cat negotiate the complexities of everyday life to enjoy living with humans including new babies and lively toddlers and other pets to answer to their name settle into a new home and to overcome the anxiety of a visit to the vet you can train your cat to do what is in its own best interests even when its instincts tell it otherwise i doubt you ll find a more well informed or scientific book on cats that better shows you how feline thinking works the times a leading anthrozoologist and the bestselling author of dog sense and cat sense explains why we are so drawn to pets historically we relied on our pets to herd livestock guard homes and catch pests but most of us don t need animals to do these things anymore pets have never been less necessary and yet pet ownership has never been more common than it is today half of american households contain a cat a dog or both why are pets still around in the animals among us john bradshaw one of the world s leading authorities on the relationship between humans and animals argues that pet ownership is actually an intrinsic part of human nature he explains how our empathy with animals evolved into a desire for pets why we still welcome them into our families and why we mourn them so deeply when they die drawing on the latest research in biology and psychology as well as fields as diverse as robotics and musicology the animals among us is a surprising and affectionate history of humanity s best friends a pioneering study richly empathetically and affectionately respectful of the human animal bond sunday times why do humans love animals the bestselling author of in defence of dogs and cat sense gives us the answers keeping pets is expensive time consuming and seemingly irrational so why do so many of us have an animal in our lives modern day pet keeping has been justified for many reasons from the potential therapeutic role pets can play to their appealing cuteness but pet keeping is much more than just a simple pastime it is part of the broader history of humanity s relationship with animals a relationship that comes from deep within our nature as john bradshaw reveals in this highly original new work our connection with animals is one of the very things that makes us human in the animals among us bradshaw takes us to the heart of anthrozoology a new science dedicated to discovering the true nature and depth of the human animal bond following the thread of our affection for animals from today s pet lovers all the way back to our ancient ancestors bradshaw reveals how animals have always been an integral part of our lives indeed they have shaped the evolution of our minds and our bodies the ways in which we relate to animals today stem ultimately from our evolutionary journey from hominid to homo sapiens an affinity for animals drove our evolution as humans now as increasing numbers of species are under threat john bradshaw shows us that pet keeping can act as a bridge between the domestic and the wild even aiding conservation if we lose the animals among us he warns we risk losing an essential part of ourselves
